Part - A

Time : 1^{1/2} Hours

Marks: 20

Answer any five of the following question in two or three sentences each.

5x2=10

(Q.1) 'I call it my chicken drumstick,' joked Nick. What does 'it' refer to? How does it help him?

Ans. Here, "it" refers to Nick's left foot, which is attached to his hip.

It helps him for various things such as typing, writing, playing golf, swimming etc.

(Q.2) Discuss the irony in the title 'The Dear Departed'?

Ans. Families are supposed to stick together through thick and thin. But this is not the case in the play; when the grandfather is assumed to have died by his so-called loved ones, they start quarreling with one another for things of monetary value instead of showing respect and compassion.

After the old man learns of the true intentions of his daughters, he decides to depart from the house and leave everything behind for his children. The irony here is that loved ones stay together but in the play the grandfather leaves so the house could become more accommodating for his family, so the title “The Dear Departed” is befitting.

(Q.3) Why was the author reluctant to carry his own luggage?

Ans. The author felt ashamed to carry his own luggage, he felt that his education has granted him a superior stature that doesn't involve engaging in doing menial labouring tasks like the low-level servant class of the society.

(Q.4) How was Ray perceived by the outsiders?

Ans. Ray had high intellectual capabilities and he was also blessed with impressive physique. But in reality, he was an introvert who seemed distant from the world in the eyes of the outsiders. People close to Ray referred to him as “Manikda”, while the others felt his presence to be strange, daunting and sometimes terrifying.

(Q.5) Who was Bayaji? What was Bayaji's dream?

Ans. Bayaji belonged to a lower class who worked hard outside his village in order to save enough money to build a multi-floor house for his family. He wished that after building his dream home, other people of his village would show him respect and allow him a suitable place among themselves but to his dismay, the opposite happened. College students from high classes destroyed his house and Bayaji died.

(Q.6)How are peoples' basic needs connected with the environment?

Ans. It is the environment that sustains and preserves all life forms, without it, everything perishes. People rely on the environment for basic needs such as to have oxygen to breathe, water to drink, food to eat, materials to build houses and sunlight to see in daytime.

(Q.7)If one wants to bring a change in social system, what Qualities should one possess?

Ans. If one wants to bring a change in the social system, one should possess socialism, secularism, kindness, simplicity, generosity, social quality and commercial tolerance.

(Q.8)Why did the white man feel surprised at the narrator's outburst?

Ans. The Whiteman felt surprised at the narrator's outburst because his thoughts were right as per the situation. So, he also smiled.

(Q.9) What did Socrates suggest as the secret to success?

Ans. Socrates believed that to gain success one needed to want it desperately and the person after it, shouldn't settle for anything less. Success should become the air you breathe, and when you need success as bad as the air, then you don't rest until you get what you want.

(Q.10) When did people shake hands with their hearts?

Ans. Human heart is known to display emotions with all its genuineness and it wouldn't be wrong to say that eyes express those feeling. When people lay their eyes on someone they really like, their eyes would get brighter and a smile would appear. When people would meet under such circumstances, they would tend to shake hands with their hearts.
